An article entitled “The Importance of Credit Counseling & Financial Management Courses” incorrectly stated that Chapter 7 and Chapter 13 debtors had the same time period to file the certificate that the debtor had taken the personal financial management course.

A Chapter 7 debtor is ineligible for a discharge if he/she has not, within 45 days after the first date fixed for the 341 meeting, filed the certificate of having taken the personal financial management course.

A Chapter 13 debtor must take a personal financial management course no later than the date when the last payment was made by the debtor as required by the plan in order to be eligible for a discharge.

These requirements are listed in Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 1007(c).
